

Stop Women And Consider

This Fact—that in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers twenty-five years.

The present Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, was for years under her direction, and has ever since her decease continued to advise women.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty causes them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. Such questioning and examination is unnecessary. Without cost you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

MRS. PINKHAM'S STANDING INVITATION:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established this confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Never has she published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which Mrs. Pinkham has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge needed in your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

BUTLER

Glass Men Will Erect A Milk Bottle Factory

At Parkersburg, W. Va. In The New Future

Former Mt. Vernon Man Interested In The Plant

Some time ago L. E. Tigner, of Butler, O., after a visit to Parkersburg, with his associates, made a proposition to the board of commerce to build a large factory to manufacture milk bottles and other bottles in this city, says the Parkersburg, W. Va., Sentinel. The location he had selected is a portion of the farm belonging to Mrs. Grace M. Shields. He stated to the board of commerce that if this city would furnish him a site there, consisting of about three acres, which would about cover the cost of moving the buildings from Everson, Pa., to this city, and put in the railroad switch, which would cost approximately $2,000, he would build a plant here.

After several meetings and thorough investigation the board of commerce decided to accept this proposition. A contract was entered into with Mr. Tigner and his associates on Saturday afternoon, and Mr. Tigner left to make arrangements to begin the erection of the plant within the next 10 or 15 days.

Tigner and his associates are experienced business men, some of them having devoted their entire lives to the manufacture of bottles. They are amply able to construct, equip and operate the proposed plant. The buildings and equipment, with their working capital, will require from $50,000 to $60,000.

They will erect a modern six-story, continuous-tank plant, with a capacity of 15 tons of melted glass every 24 hours. It will be equipped with three lehrs, and all the other machinery needed to operate such a plant. The building will be of steel construction and will consist of one main factory building 80x150 feet; a mixing room 50x70; a machine shop 40x60 feet; blacksmith shop 30x40 feet; one box shop 40x60 feet; one storage warehouse 60x150 feet. The plant will employ from 75 to 125 people, with a payroll ranging from $4,000 to $7,000 per month. It is the expectation to have the plant completed and in operation within 90 days from the time the construction begins.

The location selected for the plant is the most desirable site for such a purpose that can be found around Parkersburg. It is only a short distance above the city, fronts directly on the county road and street car line, is close to the railroad and Ohio river, and is so situated that the employees can find houses in that vicinity, or live down town and reach it easily over the street car line.—Pittsburg Commoner and Glassworker.

What Makes The Leader?

The consumer knows that if he buys from one concern he will get money's worth or more, while if he purchases elsewhere he does so with a skeptical mind. It is not alone age. Yet the standard house must have age, because it must have stood all manner of tests; all manner of experiences; must have grown and not sprung up over night. It is not advertising alone. An inferior article can be sold with sufficient misrepresentation, but it usually costs more than it comes to; and such selling is poor business. For no business can be built to last on inferior goods.

It is Age, Honest Materials, Quality, Satisfaction and Proper, Truthful Publicity.

The Assurance of Absolute Dependability That goes with the Goods from this Big Furniture Store That's what makes us the leaders and that's what every purchaser is entitled to receive.
